FIFTEEN CENTS

Sharp candidates bode close count

by GLORIA DAVIS

The six candidates for the three open seats on the Antioch Village Board all gave a good account of themselves as they appeared before approximately 30 members of the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Assn. at the State Bank of Antioch.

Their informational appearance was in the format of a political forum, with each candidate speaking for five minutes and then all the talks being followed by a question and answer session with residents participating.

Don Amunsen, former trustee serving in the Mike Haley administration, listed a trustee's duties in a threefold order of importance; budgeting, planning and communicating.

"A balanced budget, fulfilling the needs expressed by the citizens, is probably the most important piece of paper to come out of the village hall each year," he said.

He also stressed that once a budget had been approved, it was most important that it be followed to the letter as close as humanly possible.

Having served on the planning commission, planning for the village's future and its future needs and expenditures was also high on Amunsen's list.

He suggested that the somewhat outdated, oversized and complicated comprehensive plan of the village be replaced by a simplified version resembling the pamphlet put out by the Village of Gurnee.

Along the lines of the board keeping in constant communication with the residents, Amunsen suggested that regular gripe and informational sessions, that would allow more citizen input, be set up.

Also speaking at the meeting, held on Wednesday, March 23, lifelong resident Mabel Lou Weber, who also served in the Haley administration, finishing out her husband's term, called for a good relationship between the municipal government and the working bodies of the village. She added that more participation by the village in the Chamber's drive to bring additional industry to the area was needed.

"I really think that input from the people is greatly needed for anyone on the village board to base their decisions on," she said.

William Seemann, seeking reelection to a post he has held for 10 years, serving under three mayors, Haley, Robert Wilton and Ray Toft, admitted that being in office for awhile can give someone the idea that it is their duty to tell the people what should be done.

Barnes trial postponed until April 4

Scott Barnes, 29, Oak Lawn, will go before a jury for reckless homicide and drunk driving in Lake County Circuit Court April 4.

Barnes, charged with one count of reckless homicide and two counts of driving while intoxicated, had been scheduled to go on trial March 21 in connection with the auto accident that killed Mary Carney, 41, Antioch, on Nov. 18.

Carney died after her car was struck head-on by Barnes' car, which reportedly crossed the center line near the intersection of Rte. 83 and Town Line Rd.

Township plans annual town confab

The annual town meeting of Antioch Township will be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, April 12, at the Antioch Township Hall on Rte. 173.

After the election of a moderator, the annual reports on township business will be heard. The citizens of the township are invited to attend.

"Making it an ego trip is something that has to be guarded against," he said, adding,

Good news in The News

Set dinner-dance

Everyone is invited to attend the Oakwood Knolls Assn.'s Annual Spring Dinner-Dance on April 9 at the VFW Hall in Antioch.

Dinner-dance tickets are $8 per person and are available through April 4. No dinner-dance tickets will be available at the door.

To purchase tickets contact Co-chairmen Claudette Skvarce, (312)395-6744; Arlene Anderson (312)395-5966; or Roseann Mazzio (312)395-7323.

Choirs sing well

The Antioch Upper Grade choirs have performed very well in the contests they have entered this year. In the solo and ensemble contest held last month there were 15 solo firsts and four seconds.

In the same contest Antioch contestants received 22 ensemble firsts, 21 seconds and six thirds, the best results ever.

At the Illinois Grade School Assn's Dist. Choral Contest, held last week, the Antioch Upper Grade Singers received a first rating despite very strict standards established by the judges.

The upper grade singers will be competing in the state contest on April 30 in Mundelein, and would like to invite the public to attend both this performance and the annual spring concert/art fair on May 24, at 7:45 p.m. in the upper grade gym.

Soccer field in works for Emmons School

A new soccer field is in the works for Emmons School if it proves financially feasible, according to Supt. Jack Kakacek.

"We have the property, we might as well develop it. But right now we're not sure how much it will cost, and we have to see if it's feasible. The property is located right next to Rte. 59, so we know we'd have to erect a fence."

Kakacek added that the ground is level, so cost may be kept at a minimum. Students in the soccer program at the school now play on the baseball field. Emmons is a member of a five school soccer conference, as well as having about 100 students who play soccer during class time.

"Antioch Community High School is also joining a new conference which is going to include soccer, so we feel it would behoove us to better develop our soccer program," Kakacek said.

A decision on whether or not the field will be prepared for the beginning of the 1984-85 school year will be made within the next two months.

In other action, the Emmons School Board appointed board members Jan Ranney, Richard Ruck and Pam Pierson to represent the board in upcoming contract negotiations with teachers.

The board also decided to work with other small school districts in the area to oppose state legislation that would promote larger school districts. The decision was in response to a letter sent to the board by the Millburn School Board.

Tickets still available Prizes to be awarded for play 'Shenandoah' at annual dinner-dance

The Antioch Township Republican Club met to hear special guest speaker Robert Roiland, administrator of Winchester House in Libertyville.

Immediately following his presentation, questions and answers were shared with the audience. Judge Fred Geiger of Libertyville, who will present his program on the Judiciary to both the Antioch Township and the Lake County Young Republicans in the coming months was introduced along with many other special guests and visitors.

Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields announced that County Coroner Barbara Richardson and Lake County Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt, will be special guest speakers at the Wednesday, April 20 and May 18 meetings. Meetings begin at 8 p.m. with a Committeeman meeting at 7:30, always at the Antioch Township Office, 99 W. Rte. 173, Antioch. Coffee and refreshments are available.

Also, an announcement was made by publicity director and Lake County Young Republican President James Bucar that tickets to the play "Shenandoah" to be held Wednesday, April 13, 8:30 at the Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre, are moving fast, and had better be purchased quickly at the price of $15, $2 under the box office price. Proceeds will go to The Lake County Young Republicans, and are tax-deductible.

For more information contact Jim Bucar at (312) 395-3919. Tickets may be purchased at the State Bank of Antioch.

There are many prizes to be awarded this year at the annual Emmons PTO dinner dance and fashion show.

The General Store has donated a $100 gift certificate for a Hummel figurine. Second prize is a three month membership at D.J.'s Fitness and Racquet Center and a tiffany style lamp donated by Dan Malua of C.E. Ltd. is featured as third prize. In addition, McDonald's of Antioch will present a certificate for a birthday party for 10.

The give away will take place April 16 at the PTO Dinner Dance to be held at Maravillas in Fox Lake. Tickets may be purchased from PTO families. They will also be on sale, along with dinner dance tickets, in the lobby of the State Bank of Antioch on April 2, from 9 to noon, or at the dance on April 16. Donation for the dinner dance is $12. Table reservations can be made by calling (312) 395-5202 or (312) 395-6055.

Horton honored oldest member

Memorial Services for Adele Horton, member of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary 748 were held on Friday, March 18, at the Strang Funeral Home.

She had been the chairperson for the Gold Star parties for over 20 years. Their party honors all Gold Star Mothers, Sisters and members.

Horton was the unit's oldest member, since she would have celebrated her 94th birthday this coming July 3.

The unit shall drape its charter in memory of Mrs. A. Horton and another member Mrs. Hjordis Bremer.

The April 4 meeting shall be at 7:30 p.m. Final year end reports are due.

Mental Health Cotillion set for 18th celebration

Tickets are now available for the 18th Annual Cotillion. The Cotillion is given by the Antioch Mental Health Assn.

The event this year will be held May 21, at the Abbey on Lake Geneva. Cocktails will be at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8:30 p.m., followed by dancing to the music of "The Embers".

Tickets are available from members and at all financial institutions in Antioch.

As in the past, there will be a patron list, persons wishing to be a part of this patron list may call Dorothy Teister at (312) 395-3648.

As in the past 18 years, proceeds from the Cotillion and from the Thrift Shop, at 921 Main St., go to help the mentally handicapped children and young adults in the Lake County area in their quest to lead a life of meaning and purpose.

SHEEP SHEERING

The 1983 Sheep Sheering Schools will be held April 5 and 6 at the University of Illinois sheep farm, April 7 and 8 at the Dixon Springs Agricultural Center sheep farm, April 12 and 13 at the Lee County 4-H Center in Amboy and April 14 and 15 at the Phil Kramer farm near Roseville in Warren County. Participants may enroll by contacting the Lake County Extension Office.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,

OPTOMETRIST
CONCAVE OR CONVEX LENSES?

Do you know why your glasses are shaped the way they are? If the lens curves inward, this is a concave lens. It pushes the focused rays of light backward to the retina to correct for nearsightedness. If you didn't have those glasses, your eyes would be focusing too soon, causing your vision to blur.

If the lens curves outward, it's a convex lens. This is designed to push the focused rays of light forward to the retina, correcting for farsightedness. Without these glasses, your eyes would focus too late, also causing blurred vision.

For people with astigmatism (two points of focus instead of one), the lens will be either concave or convex depending on the kind of astigmatism. It can be either farsighted or nearsighted.

If the problem is presbyopia (the inability to use the nearfocusing muscles), the lens will be convex, just as it is for the farsighted person.

Whatever the shape of lens needed, it has to be carefully prescribed to give good results.

GOLD FILLINGS

Q: What are the advantages of gold fillings?

A: There are several. Gold has incredible strength and unusual resistance to breaking under the stress of constant chewing. For this reason, it's used mainly to restore weakened tooth structures. A silver alloy, on the other hand, may change shape in the tooth and ultimately fracture. A gold filling will almost always insure no further breakage of the filling. If a tooth is too damaged to be corrected by a silver filling, then gold is the restoration of choice.

Another plus: gold will not discolor with the passage of time, while a silver amalgam may.

The Time Machine

When I think about it People prefer bits, pieces

by GLORIA DAVIS

Educators have long been telling us that many of our children have very poor reading comprehension, often caused by a lack of concentration in a specific area.

We also hear that their hearing levels have virtually been destroyed by today's loud music which they "must" play full blast of course.

Since the natural progression is that children soon become adults and these problems are not brand new ones, it follows that there is a multitude of adults that suffer from the same problems.

Ergo the fact that many of us do not comprehend what we read or hear what we are listening to. A perfect example being the thousands of people that called into their local tv stations during the airing of "Special Bulletin," a pseudo disaster report that ran on prime time television a few weeks ago.

Despite that fact the much money was spent on pre-advertising for this show in every media in order to avoid the Orson Wells' Martian Invasion catastrophe, some people still thought that Charleston, S.C. has been destroyed by a nuclear explosion.

The TV Guide listing for that evening boldly told that the show was a fictionalization. The same was announced at every commercial and written bulletins ran periodically across the screen during the show.

Yet the calls still came pouring in! The show's on the spot newscaster was speaking from the disaster sight backed by daylight. Nowhere in the state of South Carolina was there daylight at that time, since airing time began at 8 p.m..

Maybe I'm particularly bugged by all this because anyone writing for a newspaper is constantly being called on the carpet by people who merely read and misinterpreted the headline of a story or did not read the item in it's entirety, and all by themselves, came to their own conclusions as to the facts reported.

Then there was the newspaper that received several hundred calls on a clearly labeled April Fool joke page that was filled with obviously impossible news stories.

The cutline that ran under one particular controversial picture claimed that it was shot on April 1, the day of the weekly paper's publication.

Yet the calls came, many of these from mature adults who tend to react adversely to anything that merely mentions a touchy situation.

Just a note to make the lives of the poor harassed media people slightly easier, how about remembering that half a pot is only better than none when comes to soup, the lottery and the receptacle at the end of the rainbow.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Well, it looks like our two top law enforcement people have decided to pick up the gauntlet tossed down in this column last week by Bob Diemer.

Chief Chuck (Weaving) Miller and Lt. Tom (Guard-rail Crashing) Fisher said, "Even though they have money and youth against us, we will still triumph."

And word has it that Mayor Ray Toft is already looking into furnishing cars for the two policemen so it looks like there will be a race of some kind at the Wilmot Speedway with Diemer and Bill Brook vying against Miller and Fisher, proceeds to go to the Antioch Rotary.

We will keep you informed as to the particulars as soon as we learn them!

Photog Steve Young tells me that there are still openings for older girls on the Parks' Senior Girls Softball League. Players must be under 15 years of age as of July 15. Those interested can contact Parks at (312) 395-2160.

What a wonderful party at the Tower Room last Thursday when 180 people gathered there to say goodbye to Officer Harold Mason on his retirement. Hollywood should be after Bob Diemer after the marvelous job he did with the skit about Mason.

One of the awards had Mason issuing over 4,000 tickets for moving violations during his career.

Just think, that means that the good officer could have issued a ticket to almost every man, woman and child in Antioch.

Another way to look at it would be to figure that, figuring his working a five-day week, it was almost a ticket a day for Mason. Oh well, for some people it's apples!

Congratulations to Antioch High School Senior Nick Zeien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zeien, upon winning an honor scholarship of $1,000 to Monmouth College in Monmouth, Ill.

Hope all of you get to see the new exhibit at the Lake County Museum sponsored by the museum and the American Assn. of University Women, Chain of Lakes Chapter. Our own Dolores Abderholden is the curator of the exhibit.

Even though everyone is always talking about how gracefully old Annie Mae is aging, I'll be right in the front row when Jim Polley gives his talk on meditation and aging at the Antioch Public Library, on Monday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m.

Everyone can't be a jock, but it's nice to see that Ted Poulos, son of Marge and Tom Poulos, earned an athletic letter for his work as manager of the Redmen basketball team during their 1982-83 season.

Ray Schrieber was installed as the new president of the Antioch Republican Party and Vern Barnstable became the first vice-president.

Warren Polley was officially approved by the Antioch High School Board as the new high school superintendent.

Clem Haley returned from Africa, and Homer La Plante and his lovely wife were back from a Caribbean cruise.

A vandal threw a rock through a stained glass window of the Antioch Evangelical Free Church.

Louise Murrie was made first vice president of the Antioch Republican Women's Club and Sue Horton was installed as its president.

Emmons Grade School won its third consecutive conference basketball crown.

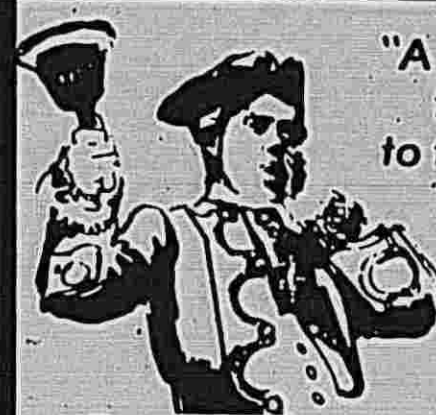

Dave and Ed Berry and Mike Mure took honors when the Antioch Summer Swim Team went to the state swimming tourney in Springfield.

Lowell Lloyd, Evelyn Bolt, Beverly Reckers and Delores Pucin were the new officers of the Antioch High School PTA.

Running for teen auditor on the Independent Ticket were George Olisar, Peter Cleven, Frank Benes and Herbert Horton, Sr.

Mayor Toft joins solid waste committee

Lake County Municipal League President, Mayor Colin McRae of Mundelein, has announced his appointment of six Lake County mayors to serve on the newly formed Lake County Solid Waste Advisory Committee.

The six mayors appointed to the 27 member committee are: Mayor John Spencer, Zion; Mayor Ray Toft, Antioch; Mayor Verna Clayton, Buffalo Grove; Mayor Ken McGill, Wauconda; Mayor Bobby Thompson, North

Chicago; and Mayor Bob Buhai, Highland Park.

The solid waste committee was formed by the Lake County Board to address the growing problems of where and how solid waste is and will be disposed in the county.

Besides these six mayors, the other members of the committee will be: Chairman of Lake County Board, Glenn Miller and six county board members, one from each district; nine representatives from the Lake County Business and Industrial Community; one representative each from the Lake County League of Women Voters, North Shore Sanitary District, Antioch Citizen Committee on Landfills and Lake County Farm Bureau.

McRae stated that "the issue of solid waste disposal will be one of the most important issues confronted in the 1980's and the Municipal League is pleased to be able to cooperate with the county and others on the project."

Village again to face Waste Management

The latest confrontation date, when representatives of the Village of Antioch will again face representatives of Waste Management, Inc., has now been set for some time in June.

Village Atty. Ken Clark said that oral arguments between the two factions will take place then concerning Waste Management's appeal on the turndown of its request for expansion of its Antioch landfill by the Illinois Pollution Control Board (IPCB).

Waste Management must file its brief with the Appellate Court by Monday, March 28, giving the village 35 days to respond, then there is a two-week period following this response in which the disposal company may respond to the village's response.

Waste Management has not given up on its plans for vertical expansion either. Clark said that the village is busy responding to a memo the disposal company filed with the state on this matter.

Meanwhile the village has agreed to join and contribute to a countywide study to find a long term solution to the solid waste disposal problem.

The Antioch Village Board, at its last regular meeting, approved a $900 contribution towards the $55,000 being sought from Lake County municipalities for the study estimated to cost $200,000.

Meanwhile, back at the village hall, the board members are still concerned with earth moving activity that is reportedly in progress at the landfill site. Communication with the county on these activities is also being undertaken by the village.

More senior housing set for Antioch

A hearing before the Antioch Zoning Board of Appeals will be held April 6 on a piece of property at Orchard St. and Holbeck Ave. that is the future site of a 25 unit senior housing project.

The Lake County Housing Authority is purchasing the property owned by Dr. Albert Bucar, and will demolish the house on the property to make way for the three story building.

The project will cost approximately $1 million in federal funds, according to Robert Cisek, executive director of the Lake County Housing Authority. Construction is set to begin in the Spring of 1984.

Meanwhile, construction on another 25 units on Cunningham Dr. will begin this summer. Names are now being taken of people interested in residence. For more information, call the Lake County Housing Authority, (312) 949-2290.

Chamber to feature Diehl talks

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry has an interesting and informative seminar planned for Tuesday, March 29, at the Windjammer. "Energy Management" will be the topic presented by Bill and Bob Diehl of Electrical Power Systems, Inc. of Antioch.

Bill and Bob brought the company to Antioch because of the growth potential here. Electrical construction, encompassing commercial, industrial, and governmental is where Bill's expertise lies. Bob heads up the energy management division of the company.

He prepares energy audits for business and industry and is directly responsible for the planning and installation of equipment.

Call Dixie at the chamber for more information, (312) 395-2233.

Fashions one highlight of popular Home Show

Once again this year, the annual Lakeland Newspapers Home Show will feature a colorful display of fashion favorites.

The fashion segment of the home show will be held during the intermission of the cooking demonstration and will feature popular fashion coordinates from Factory Fashion Center of Lindenhurst. Fashion commentary will be by Lakeland Newspapers' Fashion Editor Gloria Davis.

This year's show will once again be held at the Lake County Fairgrounds, Rtes. 45 and 120, Grayslake, and is scheduled for Thursday, April 28.

Doors open at 3:30 p.m. with the popular cooking demonstration beginning at 7 p.m. An entire afternoon and evening of activities are being planned for the show which is sponsored by Lakeland Newspapers in cooperation with participating area merchants.

This year's cooking show portion of the exciting home show will feature nationally known home economist Donna Saeger who will demonstrate the latest in cooking techniques on stage at the fairgrounds' cafeteria building.

Once again this year, younger home show visitors will be greeted by the popular Kup Kake and the Klowm Klan, official goodwill ambassadors of Lakeland Newspapers.

Visitors to the home show will visit many exciting exhibits associated with homes, entertainment, health and beauty care, recreation and lifestyles.

Admission to the show is free and seating is on a first come basis.

Scores of prizes will be given away during the show and everyone attending will receive a free cook book.

Merchants interested in exhibiting their wares or services are invited to contact the newspaper office at (312) 223-8161 for information on reserving space.

Cub Scouts, dads hold Pinewood Derby

Cub Scout Pack 80 held its annual Blue and Gold Dinner and Pinewood Derby on Sunday, Feb. 27, at the Grass Lake School gym. A delicious dinner was enjoyed by all the Scouts and their families after the award presentation ceremony.

There were many badges and awards earned by the boys who range in age from eight to 11 years old. The Webelos are the oldest Cub Scouts and worked very hard this year as is evidenced by the many badges that were handed out.

The "Bears" are in their second year of Scouting and the "Wolves" are completing their first year.

In addition, Mark Parker received citizen, craftsman, traveler, forester and naturalist. John Cole also received naturalist and outdoorsman. Bryan Shagnessy and Rick Starr received craftsman and traveler and Jeff Rey received citizen and traveler.

Bear badges were given to Jason Kitto, Scott Soltis, Adam Holtzinger, Harry Schugart, and Ricky Gilday. Jason Kitto, Scott Soltis and Ricky Gilday also received gold arrows. One silver arrow went to Scott Soltis and three silver arrows to Ricky Gilday.

Wolf badges were received by Matt Fleshman, John Hines, Sean Starr, Mark Cole, Kurt Wagner, Michael Quast, Billy Johnson, Ed Lehner, and Todd Bloom.

Gold arrows went to Matt Fleshman, Mark Cole, Kurt Wagner, Michael Quast and Billy Johnson and Matt Fleshman, Mark Cole, Michael Quast and Billy Johnson received silver arrows. Rodney Hanson was awarded his Bobcat badge.

Following the dinner the pack held the Pinewood Derby in which all the Scouts raced a car. It was a very close race and the four winners were: first place, Ed Lehner, second place, Mark Parker, third place, Brian Fehrenbacher, and fourth place, Joe Rhode. These boys will represent Pack 80 at the district competition.

As an "added attraction" a "Dad's Derby" was held. Fathers of the Scouts made cars also and held their own race. It was a very exciting race with some very nifty cars. Dan Fehrenbacher was the winner and was presented with a "trophy".

Sharp candidates

the constitution states that government shall be run by the people and for the people.

Seamann added that his record showed that he was an independent thinker and voter, citing the many times his was the only yeh or neh on a particular question.

Seamann also raised an objection to those that partition the village into Sequoit Terrace, Oakwood Knolls etc.

"We all live in Antioch," he said.

Jim Portalski, the only neophyte politician in the group, said that he had decided to stop talking about what the village fathers should do and start doing something about it by running for office.

"A trustee is only as good as the people want him to be," he said.

Although Bob Wilton didn't seem to be the oldest of the candidates, he opened his speech by saying that he had been around Antioch in essence since 1892, citing the fact that his great-grandfather had initiated the vote to incorporate the village.

Wilton's biggest future concern seemed to be the condition of the downtown retail area.

"We must bring more stable retail business to Antioch to increase the village's revenue," he said.

He suggested that parking in the downtown section seemed to still be a problem.

"The site of the old Jewel Store would make both a great municipal parking lot and a public roller skating rink," he said.

"The fenced-in area where the building stood would be a great skating rink for kids etc. when the parents were shopping," he added.

The many vacant stores in the downtown area were of great concern to him.

Claudette Skvarce, of the anti-mayoral-raise t-shirt fame (last election), claimed that she had fought against the special assessment to cure the Knoll's drainage problems.

"Everything that is done in Antioch should be done in unison the way the war waged against Waste Management, Inc. was handled," said Skvarce.

"Since I've been in office, I think that the money spent by the village has been spent wisely," she said.

Skvarce has also been instrumental in bringing Santa Claus' year-round house to the village and initiated the Fourth of July Parade as part of her committee duties with the Antioch Parks and Recreation.

Many of the audience's questions had to do with filling the many empty stores in town. Suggestions of lowering rents and renovation were heard.

The possibility of less service stores and more retail establishments on both Main and Lake Sts. was talked about by both members of the audience and the candidates.

Skvarce said that the economy dictated that Antioch stores feature lower priced merchandise to keep the shopping in the village.

Amundsen went into the Donahue and Associates plan for the expansion of the village's sewer system, talking about suiting the possible needs caused by impending village growth.

Seamann said that the village was not about to grow substantially because the stringent requirements the village was forced to put on developers made construction in Antioch an expensive proposition.

"Special assessments for special needs," said Seamann, defending his position that when a certain need, indigenous only to a certain area of the village, arises, the residents of that area should foot the cost.

"Let the developers pay for any needed sewer expansion," said Wilton.

All being said and done, it would seem that the April election is due to be a close one with such knowledgeable and popular people running for office.

AARP celebrates with corned beef, cabbage

Antioch Chapter 387, AARP observed St. Patrick's Day with a corn beef and cabbage luncheon catered by Brass Wheel of Round Lake.

A pall hung over the festivities as members mourned the loss of Vice President Clarence Spiering, who had died very suddenly on March 18.

President Ruth Rynders opened the meeting and asked members for a moment of silence to say a prayer in his memory. A special Memorial Service will be held for him on April 26.

Attendance Chairman Francis Winiecki announced there were 162 members present. Craft Day, which had been scheduled for this meeting was moved up to the meeting on May 24 to give members more time to work on their handmade creations.

Glen Peterson sold tickets for a dinner-theatre party at Shady Lane, Marengo, on April 19. All tickets were sold.

Next meeting will be April 12. Sandwiches and cake will be served.

Members are reminded to sign up for the next 55-ALIVE class. This is the Defensive Driving class sponsored by the NRTA-AARP. Many members who have completed the course are now driving more effectively and safely because of the information gained in the class and enjoying the extra benefit of a discount on their car insurance. Call John Bednarkiewicz (312)395-3161 for further information.

Set ghostly appearance

PM&L is preparing a production that is sure to please audiences of all ages — everyone loves a ghost story! "The Gramercy Ghost" will arrive at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch on April 8, and will run April 8, 9, 15, 16, 22 and 23, at 8:30 p.m., and Sunday, April 17 at 2:30 p.m.
